Its 2.0L turbocharged four-cylinder engine produces responsive performance while the nine-speed automatic transmission and all-wheel drive system work together to deliver capable handling across varied road conditions. The EPA estimates 19 city and 23 highway MPG, balancing efficiency with the capability you'd expect from this platform. Climate and comfort take priority in this cabin. Dual-zone automatic temperature control keeps front passengers content regardless of the season, while heated front seats provide warmth on cold mornings. The Meridian audio system with eleven speakers fills the cabin with clear sound whether you're listening to SiriusXM satellite radio or your own connected devices via Apple CarPlay or Android Auto. Telescoping and tilt steering combined with power-adjustable seats ensures every driver finds their ideal driving position. This vehicle is certified, meaning it has undergone a comprehensive inspection and meets rigorous quality standards. You can feel confident in the condition and reliability of this Discovery Sport S, backed by thorough documentation of its history and service record. Safety systems are integrated throughout. Dual front and side impact airbags, knee airbags, and overhead airbags work with electronic stability control, traction control, and four-wheel disc brakes with ABS to help protect occupants. The rear parking camera provides visual assistance when reversing, while low tire pressure warning keeps you informed about tire condition. The exterior design reflects purposeful Land Rover styling with body-color bumpers, auto-dimming door mirrors with heating, and fully automatic headlights that adapt to changing light conditions. Rain-sensing wipers adjust automatically to weather, and the rear fog lights enhance visibility in poor conditions. This 2025 Discovery Sport S represents a smart choice for anyone seeking a well-equipped SUV that balances capability with comfort. We invite you to view this vehicle in person and experience how it meets your driving needs.
